INTRODUCTION

“Purposeful, intelligent design is at the heart of what we do and spring summer 2026 is no exception. Our design studio has unveiled three new trend stories that capture the mood of the season, breathing new life, character and individuality into every home.

Bold botanical prints meet statement stripes, while natural materials like rattan wood and woven fibres are elevated with touches of gloss and brass for a modern finish. Beautifully crafted woven rugs are designed to ground each space with depth and warmth, whilst bold pops of colour across accessories and furniture inject vibrant energy and a playful contrast. Our latest outdoor collection also spans statement furniture and accessories in dynamic motifs and colour palettes. Every piece has been designed for real homes and everyday moments, bringing joy, versatility and our signature Habitat style to indoor and outdoor living alike.”

Nina Findley, Director of Buying at Habitat

VERDE luxe

What our Head of Design says...

“Inspired by the architectural grandeur found across tropical beach houses, Verde Luxe captures the beauty of exotic leaf formations with natural tactility. Rich woods, woven materials, brushed metals, linen textures, raw fringing, reactive glaze ceramics and colour glassware come together to create a modern interpretation of botanical living. A palette of earthy greens, sun-soaked neutrals and soft clay tones underpins this story, channeling the calm energy of nature that evokes an effortless sense of escapism and opulence.”

JOY OF play

What our Head of Design says...

“The Joy of Play speaks to Habitat’s design legacy and is influenced by our passion for colour and craft. Saturated primaries, soft pastels and vivid neons have been paired with curved silhouettes and sculptural forms, celebrating playful, distinctive design. Helping to elevate the everyday, functional pieces have been updated with joyful aesthetics such as geometric motifs and vibrant colour palettes. Pieces from our partnership with Margo Selby are also at the heart of this story, showcasing her signature woven techniques and printed textiles. Together, they form a joyful reminder that great design should always inspire and uplift.”

RIVIERA club

What our Head of Design says...

"Riviera Club captures the spirit of mid-century American country clubs with a fresh, contemporary edge. Powder-coated metals, the use of green and dark wood create a structured foundation, softened by wave-like contours and gentle curved forms. Chunky and pin-striped patterns add a tailored feel, while cut glass and silver metallic accents bring a touch of vintage glamour, evoking the charm of 1970s poolside style. Grounded in a palette of pinks, greens and yellows, this story celebrates relaxed sophistication for indoor and outdoor spaces and a confident ode to the art of effortless living."

OUTDOOR

What our Head of Design says...

“Habitat’s latest outdoor ranges channel inspiration from our Riviera Club trend, celebrating the joy of outdoor living through personality, functionality and mid-century charm. Layered rattans and lighter woods introduce a natural warmth paired with earthy green palettes that blend beautifully with garden landscapes. Powder-coated bistro sets and relaxed silhouettes add a modern twist to create spaces that feel inviting, stylish and full of character.”
